The WA Training Awards

The WA Training Awards celebrate excellence across WA's vocational education and training (VET) sector and are hosted annually by the Department of Training and Workforce Development. The Awards recognise the outstanding achievements of apprentices, trainees and vocational students and the contribution to training made by trainers, training organisations and employers across the State.

Why apply for a WA Training Award?

- Winners of individual categories receive a $3000 cash prize.
- You will receive recognition for your achievements and hard work from your peers, community, and industry.
- It is a great opportunity to network with other high-achievers, employers and industry representatives.
- It looks great on your resume and can lead to new opportunities personally and professionally.
- Eligible category winners go on to compete at the Australian Training Awards, travelling interstate to attend professional development workshops, and may win an additional cash prize and be recognised as the best in the country.

What are we looking for from WA Training Award applicants?

WA Training Award judging panels will be looking for ambassadors for VET – individuals who demonstrate passion, drive and initiative in their chosen field of work and study – and who have the willingness and enthusiasm to share their story with others. An ambassador is someone who is genuine and approachable, and who encourages others to pursue their passions, and to explore the many pathways and possibilities of VET.

The WA Training Awards

Application process

1. Eligibility criteria – review the criteria for your category and make sure you are eligible to apply.
2. Conditions of Entry – review the Conditions of Entry and ensure you meet all of them.
3. Application – prepare your responses to the selection criteria, as well as the required attachments.
4. Submit your application and attachments via the online application portal. You can save your application as you go, but once it is submitted, no further changes can be made.
5. Confirmation – you will receive confirmation that your application has been received.
6. Shortlisting – applications will be shortlisted by a judging panel, and you will be notified if you are selected as a semi-finalist.
7. Judging day – Semi-finalists are required to attend a face-to-face interview with a judging panel who will choose finalists.
8. Finalist announcement – all finalists will be announced and notified.
9. Presentation Ceremony – The Awards culminate in a Presentation Ceremony, honouring the accomplishments of all finalists and winners, and attended by key industry stakeholders from around the State. Award winners are announced and gain State-wide recognition from industry, peers and the WA community.
10. Australian Training Awards – eligible* WA winners will automatically be entered into the Australian Training Awards and must attend Finalist Week and the ATA Presentation Ceremony.
11. Being an ambassador – all WA winners will be ambassadors for training and have opportunities to share their stories.

Does not include the Cultural Diversity Training Award or International Student of the Year.*

The WA Training Awards

Preparing your application

What do you need to include in your application?

Section A: Overview

This is where you introduce yourself and provide the following:

- a short overview covering a description of the qualification you are enrolled in or have just completed;
- your registered training organisation;
- employer and host employer (if applicable); and
- your reason for choosing your industry and training pathway.

Section B: Selection criteria

This is your opportunity to tell your story! We want to find out why you followed your chosen training or career pathway, and why you would make an excellent ambassador for training.

Selection criteria top tips:

- This may be the first selection criteria you have ever written and there are lots of resources and tips to help you on our website and social media pages. Tell your story in your own words and ask someone you trust to proofread your application. This could be a friend, family member or coworker.
- Start your application early! You can save the online application as you go.
- Make sure you address each selection criterion (four in total) within the word limit. We recommend using the full word count to tell your story, with details and examples.
- Use the suggestions listed under each criterion to help write a competitive response that outlines the development of your skills and biggest achievements.
- Use examples and supporting evidence of how your training has contributed to your career or further study plans.
- The STAR method (Situation, Task, Action, Result) can be useful to follow, as it will help you outline the whole story behind your examples.
- Templates for preparing and editing your responses to the selection criteria are available on the WA Training Awards website.

Section C: Attachments

Required attachments

There are documents you need to attach to your online application, and all templates are available on our website. It is a good idea to get your attachments ready before you start your online application as incomplete applications will be disqualified.

These include:

- Reference letter from either an employer/host employer or lecturer (two-page limit).
- Employer's endorsement of your application and any time off you may need (for applicants who are employed. Trainer applicants must have a signed declaration from the Chief Executive Officer/ Managing Director).
- Signed talent release form.
- School endorsement of your application and any time off you may need (for applicants still enrolled in school).
- Parent/guardian declaration (for applicants under 18).
- A copy of your completed qualification certificate (or a letter/email from your training provider outlining that you are on track to complete it by September, as per the eligibility criteria. Trainer applicants must submit evidence of their completed teacher/trainer qualification, as determined by the Australian Qualifications Framework).

- Proof of permanent residency (for example birth certificate, drivers' licence, passport or a copy of your permanent visa). Please note: NZ residents must have a permanent residency visa or citizenship. A Special Category Visa (SCV) issued on entry is not sufficient.
- Applicants for the International Student of the Year category must provide copies of their 500/572 visa and confirmation of enrolment in WA.
- Applicants for the Cultural Diversity Training Award category must provide evidence that they migrated to Australia after 1 January 2018, currently reside in WA, a copy of their VISA (under Australia's Humanitarian Programme) OR evidence of permanent residency.

Where can I find these templates?

Visit dtwd.wa.gov.au/watrainingawards/how-to-apply#required-attachments.

Additional supporting evidence

In addition to the required attachments, applicants may attach up to five A4 pages of supporting evidence. This could be certificates, awards, prizes or photos you refer to in your written application.

Our tip is to name each of your attachments clearly and refer to those where possible in your written responses to the selection criteria (e.g. Attachment 1).

The WA Training Awards

Submitting your application

Applications must be submitted online through the WA Training Awards application portal, by 5.00pm Friday 26 April. Applicants must submit their own applications.

Register on the home page of the application portal to create an account.

You will receive an email from the Awards team, asking that you confirm your account.

You may need to check your spam/junk email folder if you haven't received this.

Once you have confirmed your account you will be able to log in and begin your application.

You can save and edit your application at any time during the application period.

There are five tabs which must be completed in the application portal.

1. Choose your category

Here you will select the category you are applying for. The category you choose will determine which details, criteria and attachments are required from you.

You will also name your application in this section. Your application name should be your full name (first name, last name).

2. Applicant details

In this tab, all applicants must provide their contact details.

3. Training details

Student applicants must provide information about the course they are completing, list a referee and provide employer, host employer and school/ training provider details (where applicable).

Trainer applicants will provide their Chief Executive Officer/Managing Director's details and confirm they have endorsed their application.

4. Selection criteria

You will need to provide an overview or introduction of who you are, and then address all the selection criteria within the word limits.

5. Attachments

Here you will upload the required attachments and supporting documents for your application (use the drop-down menu to label each of your attachments so the judges know what they are looking at).

Conditions of entry

To be considered for an individual award, the following conditions of entry must be met:

- Applications must be submitted online via the WA Training Awards application portal before 5:00pm on the closing date. All applicable sections of the portal must be completed, including all required attachments.
- Each category requires supporting documentation and references, and these must be uploaded and attached to the online application under the 'Attachments' section.
- Applicants can apply for one category only and must meet the eligibility criteria for that category.
- It is the responsibility of the applicant to ensure that they have selected the correct category.
- Application responses must be no longer than the maximum word limit allowed.
- The WA Training Awards is a self-nomination process. Applicants must personally prepare and submit their own applications. However, it is still recommended that applicants get a friend, coworker or family member to review their application before submitting.
- Applicants acknowledge that the information submitted in the 'overview' will be summarised and used as a profile should they be selected as a finalist.
- In addition to the required attachments, individual applicants may attach additional relevant supporting evidence (maximum five A4 pages).
- Applicants must supply factually correct information with the understanding that this will be checked and confirmed before the application is progressed to the judging panel.
- Applicants must agree to abide by the decision of the selection panel, as no appeals will be entered into.
- By entering, finalists and winners agree for their photographs, profiles, video footage, training details and suburbs to be used for promotional purposes by the Government of Western Australia and Commonwealth of Australia. The check box in the application portal must be ticked to substantiate this.
- Applicants must comply with Department of Training and Workforce Development standards in regard to training, workplace health and safety and industrial relations matters.
- Applicants agree to notify the Awards team immediately, should there be a change in an applicant's Circumstances with regard to their training or employment.
- Applicants must advise the Awards team of changes to their contact details.
- Individual finalists must participate in the Judging Day to remain eligible, which includes attending an interview.
- Eligible category winners* must attend a two-day professional development workshop in October, before the Australian Training Awards finalist week and presentation dinner in November.
- Applicants acknowledge that should they win their WA Training Awards category, their original application will be submitted to the Australian Training Awards. The Australian Training Awards will allow State winners to update content only where there is new information or information has changed between nominated dates.

Does not include the Cultural Diversity Training Award or International Student of the Year.

Australian Training Awards

The Australian Training Awards are the peak national awards for the VET sector that showcase best practise in vocational education and training.

Winners from each state and territory (in aligned categories) have the opportunity to compete for a national award title.

There are also a number of awards that are available by direct entry.

- Outstanding Achievement in the VET and Skills Sector Award
- Excellence in Language, Literacy and Numeracy Practice Award
- Australian Apprenticeships – Employer Award
- School Pathways to VET Award

You can apply for these categories directly through the Australian Training Awards website – australiantrainingawards.gov.au. You will also find all eligibility and criteria requirements on their website.
